Because of the breadth of assets Dawsongroup supplies it can surprise even some of our bigger clients by how much influence we have in their supply chain: we have many touch points that they don't realise, from their supplier of raw material to the logistic company and distributor who rely on us for assets.

Our heritage means we have worked with businesses from the start-up phase to becoming SMEs and bigger. Our funding options and the scalability of our solutions help them negotiate and win contracts by involving us at the tender phase of a contract, to deliver measurable service levels and enable them to meet fluctuations in demand, but more importantly the ability to grow without risking capital in depreciating assets.

Protecting capital without compromising capability is what Dawsongroup's service is all about. Our consultants work with companies to supply the best finance rates available on longer-term contracts and flexible rental on shorter-term riskier deals, minimising the risk to your capital.

Our service levels give you the information you need to rely on for your supply chain with our 24/7 UK call centre, network repair servicing agents and branches across the UK, meaning we can deliver a nationally-capable local service.

We supply assets that are crucial to your supply chain, you need our assets to be funded to protect your capital, efficient to reduce energy and fuel costs, and be compliant with the minimum amount of downtime. Our wealth of experience means we can help you utilise our assets to optimise product flow and reduce labour and equipment, maximising your margin across the supply chain. We have surprising influence and capability...

RAW MATERIAL/
INGREDIENTS

We supply assets across the first phase of the supply chain: for example, our inflatable cold storage solutions can be used by growers in the field to reduce crop spoilage which can be as high as 40 per cent. We even supply the buses and minibuses used to get the pickers to the crop.

MANUFACTURER

What may surprise you is the number of environmental test chambers we supply to the electronic, engineering, healthcare and pharmaceutical sectors that become a crucial asset in our customers' R&D activities. Our temperature control solutions business also has a track record of increasing their customers' profitability with fast and flexible solutions that allow them to take on additional business, increase efficiency and reduce costs.
